Slate Session on U.S.-African Policy

American Association of University Women is focusing the attention of its many branches on the "Evolving Policy of the United States toward the Emerging Nations of Africa and Asia," with special priority given to consideration of many problems of African nations.

In-line with the national aim, Dr. Maxine Ziegler, who heads the International Relations study group of the Palos Verdes-Rolling Hills branch, has planned group meetings, the first of which is set for this evening at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. John Avakian, 865 Rincon Lane, Palos Verdes Estates.

Members will hear a talk on the topic of "The Revolution" given by Mrs. Mary Louise Hooper, west coast representative of the African Defense and Aid Fund of the American Committee on Africa.

Mrs. Hooper will discuss various issues from the viewpoint of the Africans themselves, their desire for social and economic improvement and their plans for fulfilling these desires. She will answer such questions as "How do the Africans feel about colonialism, nationalism, cold war entanglements, and the United Nations? Where does Africa stand ideologically in the conflict between Democracy and Communism? What do they expect of the United States, of the Soviet Union, and of their own people? What can we as educated women do to assist in bringing about better understanding between the United States and Africa?"

Mrs. Hooper is the only white person ever to work inside the African National Congress, major political organization of black South Africa.

Observations for the lunch Sunday, Mrs. Richard Abshar will be official typist with publicity coverage by Mrs. Nicolas Humting.
